

FISHING AND HUNTING ARE HOBBIES FOR SOME FOLKS. NOT FOR MONTANANS.

For Montanans, fishing and hunting are a way of life. We want to pass our traditions and passion for the outdoors to our children and their children. The Forest Jobs and Recreation Act keeps these traditions strong by keeping Montana the way it is - a place of streams filled with wild trout, forests with abundant game and public access on millions of acres. That's why sporting groups across the state support Senator Tester's legislation. Help protect the habitat that makes Montana, Montana. Help protect your way of life.
