

LEAF IT TO ME

Each spring, something amazing happens. Bare trees grow a whole new canopy of leaves. But the show doesn't last long, and only those who pay close attention get to see the magic in action. Follow the steps below to catch it this year!

1. Find a tree that doesn't have leaves yet. Choose one nearby that you can visit often. Look for a low branch with buds on it that you can see easily.
2. Each day, visit your tree to see what has changed.
3. On each visit, fill out one of the boxes below. Record the date and time, draw the branch, and write down anything interesting you notice. Make more copies of this page when you need more space.

	What does it look like? Draw it.	Describe it.
